THE KITCHEN ROOM

A note from us

We think everyday life deserves a beautiful backdrop.

Kitchens are where so much of it happens. The hurried breakfasts and slow Sunday mornings. Homework at the table. Friends staying a little longer than planned.

We don't think a beautiful kitchen should be saved for best.

We start with your home, how you live and how you want it to feel, then bring together cabinetry, colour, materials and the details that give a room its character. Every kitchen we fit is made in Britain.

We hope the pages that follow inspire something for your own.

Three starting points.

Framed, Signature and Studio are our three cabinetry collections, each bringing together its own mix of profiles, materials and finishes.

But they aren't prescribed looks.

Colour, hardware, worktops and all the details around the cabinetry can take each collection in remarkably different directions.

Think of them simply as three different places from which to begin.

Where we take it from there is entirely yours.

Signature

A lot of character. A lot of feeling.

Beautiful proportions, tactile finishes and furniture-inspired details give Signature a depth and character all its own.

Serenity

Beautifully simple. Endlessly adaptable.

A classic Shaker that leaves plenty of room for colour, materials and the details that make it yours.

Edwardian

Classic proportions. A softer way with tradition.

Applecross

Carron

Sterling

Smooth and understated.

A clean, quiet finish that lets the profile and proportions speak.

Braemar

The same profile, with the added character of wood texture.

Sometimes the smallest change in finish can give a kitchen an entirely different feeling.

TIMELESS CABINETRY WITH A SIMPLER CONSTRUCTION

Studio

Easy to live with. Easy to make your own.

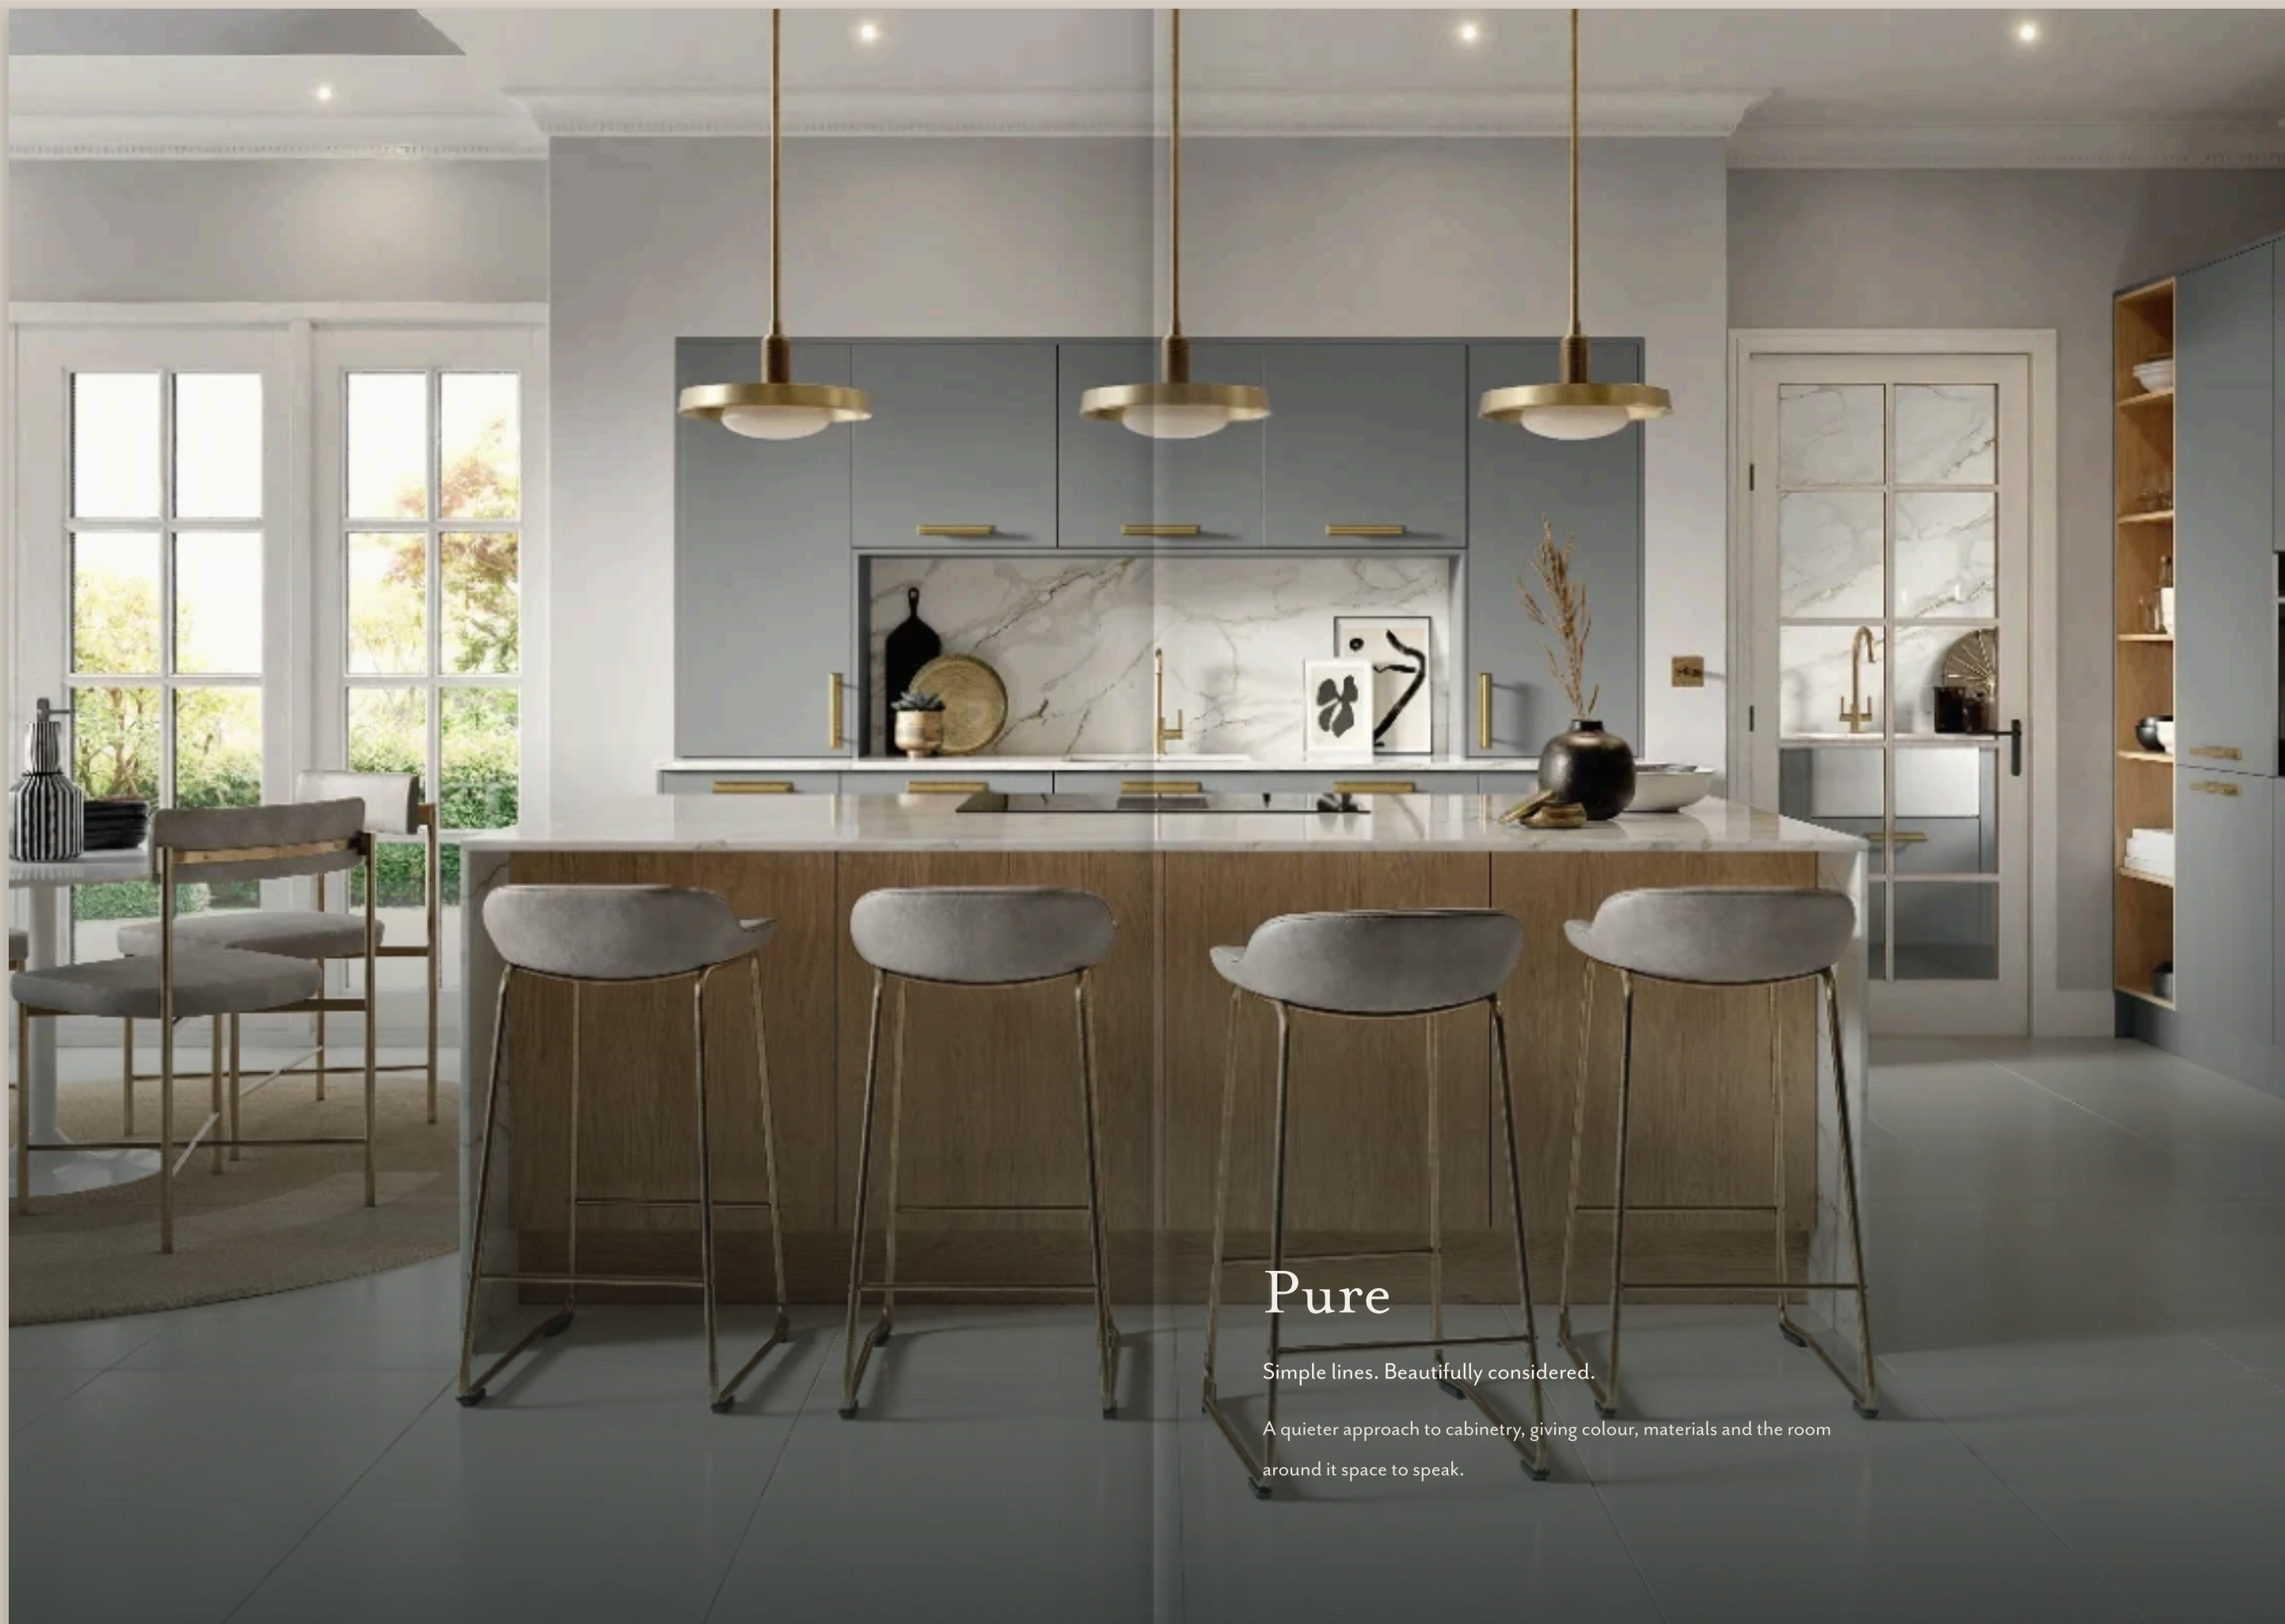

Timeless profiles, clean lines and considered finishes give us the freedom to create kitchens that can feel classic, contemporary or somewhere beautifully in between.

Sovereign

STUDIO

Pure

Simple lines. Beautifully considered.

A quieter approach to cabinetry, giving colour, materials and the room around it space to speak.

Grain

Clean lines. Natural warmth.

Clean, flat doors that let the character and texture of timber do the talking.

With handles or without, in finishes from light sand oak to deep walnut.

Monarch

Galloway

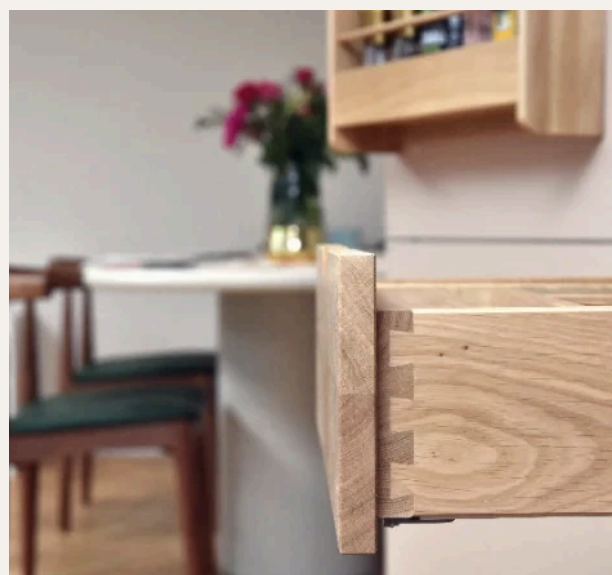

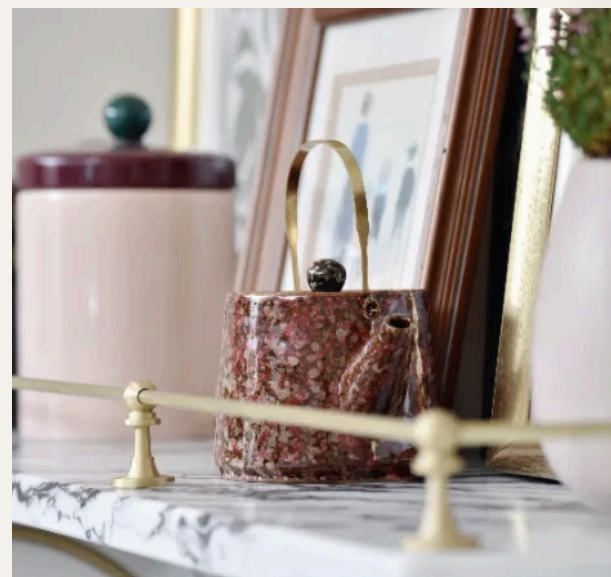

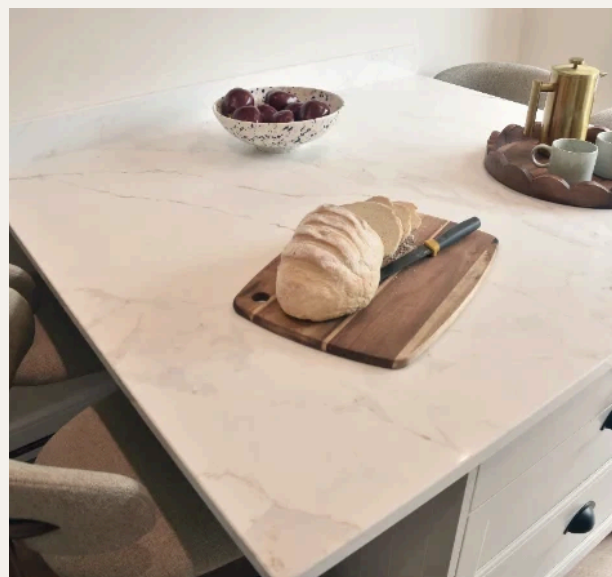

One starting point. Many ways to make it yours.

For the everyday.

Especially the everyday.

Made in the details.

A kitchen is made up of hundreds of decisions.

The proportion of a door. The weight of a handle. The way the grain catches the light. The edge of a worktop.

What happens when you open a cupboard.

Individually, they can feel like small things.

Together, they're what make a room feel just right.

Beautiful on the inside, too.

Because what happens behind the doors matters just as much.

Storage designed around the way you live makes the everyday things a little easier.

A place for what you need. And, just as importantly, a place for the things you don't want to see.

The whole palette.

Colour. Texture. Material. Detail.

Nothing is chosen in isolation. It's the way everything sits together that changes how a room feels.

Every collection comes in a wide choice of colours, with bespoke options available across the Farrow & Ball and Little Greene palettes.

Beauty belongs in the everyday rooms, too.

The pantry where breakfast begins. The utility that sees endless loads of washing.

The boot room that catches muddy shoes, wet coats and the dog after a walk.

Some of the hardest-working rooms in a home are also the most ordinary.

We think that's all the more reason to make them beautiful.

Made for sitting down.

And staying a little longer.

Slow breakfasts. Homework. Coffee with a friend. Squeezing another person around the table when the house is full.

We have a banquette in our own kitchen and, inevitably, it's where everyone ends up.

Each of ours is designed for the room around it and built individually by Hristiyan.

Made for your home. And everything that happens in it.

From first ideas to final fitting.

For us, design and installation have always belonged in the same conversation.

We think about how your kitchen will actually be made from the very beginning and stay involved right through to the final details.

It means the person fitting your kitchen understands the thinking behind it. And the person designing it understands what it takes to make that idea work beautifully in your home.

Fewer handovers. Fewer compromises.

One room, considered from beginning to end.

What to expect.

From the first conversation to the finished room.

One Consultation.

It starts with a conversation. We'll talk about your home, how you use the space and, importantly, how you'd like the finished room to feel.

Two Measure.

Then we come to you, not just to measure, but to properly understand the space, how the light moves through it and how you'll actually live in it.

Three Design.

This is where we bring every detail together. Your first design concept is complimentary, and we'll guide you to what's worth spending on and what isn't.

---

Four Installation.

Hristiyan's 15+ years of hands-on installation experience informs our designs from the beginning. We manage every trade ourselves and keep you informed throughout, so there are no surprises.

Our promise to you.

A kitchen is a long-term decision, so we want you to feel confident in it for years to come.

Every cabinet in every collection is covered by a 20-year manufacturer's guarantee. Our cabinetry is made in British workshops, to order, and every kitchen is planned around your room and the way you live in it.

Guarantee terms apply. Full details available on request.

How do you want
home to feel?

That's where we'll start.

Thank you for spending a little time with us.

We'd love to hear about your home, and what you'd like it to feel like.
